The assemblage was called to order by Capt. Daniel McAlahon, who remarked that the friends of Ireland have good reason to congratulate one mether at bobelding this immense gathering in response to a call for a raily of ireland's friends. The contemplated investigation of District asfairs does not give promise of the separational finterest at first attributed to it, as the sub-committee have mapped out a programme which, as as foundation-stone, has yursely legal principles.
Many weeks and months squandered in the dist
it compress have given a waming that the present committee are disposed to heed, and compiles a resort to that procedure which is as sure andumerring in the exposed of suffices as sure andumerring in the exposed of suffices as sure andumerring in the exposed of suffices as it is in the substantiation of guilt. It consequently occurs that vague rumors will not suffice to destroy they character of men long identified with the city, and tangible evidence of wrong must be shown before simple evidence of wrong must be shown before
simple evidence of wrong must be shown before sized has its sway. As already stated in Tra

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN, a sub-committee, consisting of Senators Boutwell and Thurman and Representatives Wilson and Hamilton, was appointed to arrange the line of section to be purmed by the whole committee. In accordance with this the sub-committee have held several meetings and have adopted a report which embodies the following features:

The Board of Public Works on account of the improvements; the present liabilities of the city and the means of meeting them; the character of the indebtedness, and a general "balance sheet" which will give the present financial condition of the District. They are also required to furnish attaments of the fanness of the cities of Washington and Georgetown and the cognity prior to their taking office. This is intended as the first step in the "investigation," and is to supply the groundwork for further labors. Upon the satisfactory complisince with this request the "memorialist" are to commence work. In turn they are to be required to present firms prove of eximal of the firms of prov compliance with this request the "memorialists" are to commence work. In turn they are to be required to present formal charges of crime, mis-are to commence work. In turn they are to be required to present formal charges of crime, mismanagement or incompetency, and further, to give the names of the parties who are to appear as witnesses to vouch lor or substantiate the accusations. Under this arrangement, it will be seen that the investigation is subject to legal principles alone, the memorialists occupying the place of complainants, and the District authorities being the defendants.

This course has been consummated because specific charges of guilt have been made in the petitions presented, and it is deemed just to all concerned that an opportunity be granted to provide the necessary evidence to substantiate them. In short, the burden of proof will lie with the memorialists. As this course may be provestive of criticism from the outside enemies of District advancement, it must in justice be stated that the sub-committee propose direct action, and no circumicoution, which can only mean injury to the prosperity of the city without any damaging revolations being exhibited. The members of the committee argue that if the memorialists accusations, and there is little desire to permit them to come into court and have the defendants make out their case. This is all upon the presumption that the statements required of the District authorities will be a clear exposition of innocence of criminal intent and freedom from all irregularity or mismansgement. It is further argued that Congressional examination was not "prayed for," but an investigation of declared offences is requested. Already several members of the committee have received written communications making diverse accusations, and where the real names are attached to these letters an opportunity will be granted the authors to swear to the statements therein contained.

A meeting of the entire committee will be held to day to consider the read of the so the contained.

PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE COMMIT TEES.
The House Committee on the District held their meeting yesterday morning, and agreed to again report the bill giving authority to the Washing-ton City and Point Lookout railroad to extend their line within the limits of the District of Columbia, with the amendment "That no grading shall be done or ralls laid by the said Washington shall be done or ralls faid by the said Washington City and Point Lookout Railroad Company in the city of Washington until it shall have graded and tied the entire line of its railroad from a point on the Baltimore and Potomác railroad at or near Brandywine city, in Prince George's county, to a point on the railroad now constructed by the Washington City and Point Lookout Railroad Company partly within the county of Prince George's and partly within the District of Columbia; and provided that the said work of grading and tieing shall be completed within two years from the let of July, 1874."

The contemplated investigation of District as fairs does not give promise of the sensational interest at first attributed to it, as the sub-committee have mapped out a programme which, as a foundation-stone, has purely legal principles. AMUSEMENTS. THE NATIONAL.

Mr. Frank Mayo's engagement is proving one of the most successful of the season. His play, "Davy Crockett, combined with the admirable manner in which he personates the hero, provides for those who see him an entertainment of the most pleasing description, and never fails to fill all who attend with delight. While the stage is being polluted with trashy and immoral plays like those which have recently been presented all over the country, a drama with a moral tone, like that of "Davy Crockett," is a positive relief. We trust that it will prove a furerunner of more of a like aim. Mr. Mayo is ably supported by Miss Ross Rand, one of our most attractive and competent actresses, and by the members of Mr. Saville's large and talented company. The scenery is attractive and true to nature, while the manner in which the stage is run reflects the highest credit upon Mr. Lamb, the stage manager. Mr. Harry Widmer has also proved himself a enpable or-chestra lesder, for he has organized a company of musicians second to none in all the land. Mr. Saville's conducting his theatre upon the most liberal principles, and it is a pleasure to note that the public is at last making up for the past, and is giving him encouraging support.

THE OLD FOLKS' CONCERT. THE NATIONAL.

THE OLD FOLKS' CONCERT.

The crowd that assembled at Union chapel last night to hear the second concert given by the amateur talent of Washington and Georgetown was a flattering testimonial of the appreciation in which this creditable movement is held, and but a just tribute to the musical talent which the corps of vocalists contains. It was but a repetition of the grand success which met the maiden effort of the corps, in Georgetown, on Tuesday night. Fred. G. Calvert, the leader of the Union chapel choir, held the baton of the "greate tunne better" of the occasion, and rivaled the effort of his prototype, Mr. Frank Wilson, who assumed the role at Georgetown. The solos, duetts and quartettes were rendered with striking harmony, in which was blended much expression. The choruses were particularly fine, developing the strength and compass of many voices of rare sweetness.

At the conclusion of the concert the songsters were entertained and regaled by a handsome collation given by the ladies of the church.

A number of colored men became engaged in a fight last night on Beall street, Georgetown, in which two mea, named John Pondexter and John Baas, figured conspicuously. The row was stopped by the appearance of Officers Whitmore and Hilley, who took several of the parties into custody.

At the twenty-eighth meeting of the Eureka Association fourtaen shares were advanced on at an average of 49 per cent. discount, and twenty-five shares were redeemed by return of dues with ten per cent. interest. At the fifty-eighth monthly meeting of the Six Per Cent. Building Association three shares were advanced on at 139 per cent. premium. At the seventy-sixth meeting of the Six eventy-sixth meeting of the Six eventy-sixth meeting of the Washington Co-operative Association three shares, 43,000, were advanced on at 1311/2 premium.

SUPREME COURT—GENERAL TERM.
All the associatio justices sat in book yesterday, and were engaged as follows:
Pabst vs. Economical Building Association. This case, the substant all saues in which have already been reported in this paper, was argued in port. Meestle Schmidt and Mattingly appeared for Pabst, and Messrs. Cox and Davidge for the building association. The case was not concluded.

THE WASHINGTON SILICA PIPE COM-PANY.

We are pleased to be able to record that subscriptions to the stock of this organization are coming in rapidly, and that negotiations are progressing favorably with the Board of Public Works for a large supply of the silies drain pipes, for sewerage, to be delivered in the spring. By reference to their advertisement, in another column, it will be seen that the subscription books close on the list of March next, and as but thirty per cent. of the capital will be needed to commence operations, a most profitable investment is offered to capitalists and the general public. A greater portion of the stock already subscribed for has been secured by contrastors, who are thus afforded additional facilities to execute their work with greater rapidity and larger profits.

Mrs. L. Yes, indeed; we have made arrange-ments by which we can accomplish our ends.

least until your plans are more mature.

Mrs. L. Perhaps I have, Doctor, but I wish to say one word in regard to our intentions.

K. (anxiously.) If you please.

Mrs. L. Well, we have secured a ship—see bought if—but have recently come to the conclusion that it is not large enough for our work and have concluded to purchase another. We intend to sail from San Francisco at the earliest moment possible, and on our arrival at the Island we shall proceed to the interior of it and there make an excavation for minerals as stated in the petition.

R. What is the foundation of your belief in the existence of these rare minerals in this particular portion of the island.

Mrs. L. Some of the parties connected with the petition have been there in person and made a thorough examination of the peculiar strata which exists in that neighborhood of the island, and from their report we are satisfied that the results of our expedition will redound to the benefit of science and blessing of mankind.

R. Isn't there some spiritualism connected with this prospective transaction, some clairvoyant revelation or supernatural mystery?

Mrs. L. Nota bit of it. Mortal man, genuine fiels and blood, has seen these things; therefore we know whereof we speak.

R. What do you intend to do with the mineralogical material?

Mrs. L. That's just what you can't find out this evening. We shall take a large ship, and bring back with us a large load, and a load which will astonish most of the veteran mineralogists of the land, and fill the laboratories and museums with specimens of mineral which will decome to the medical science of the world.

R. Do you intend to accompany the expedition yourself?

Mrs. L. I shall, unless my professional duties call me to England, and thus detain me from participating in this truly interesting and great work. Mrs. Curtis, French and several other persons, who are to have a hearing before the Committee on Public Lands soon in regard to the matter, will accompany the expedition.
